Turmeric

Turmeric is one of the most versatile spices in the world. That's just straight facts!

Used in almost every Indian kitchen, this golden spice offers more than just vibrancy and aroma to every dish. It is used in other fields such as medicine, cosmetics, and even traditional home remedies.

Now if we're going to say that it is India's favourite spice then it should not come as a surprise to us to know that the country is the leading producer of this spice globally.

Our Products

• Black Turmeric

Black turmeric is a rare herb. It is the underground portion of the stem, or rhizome, of the Cucurma caesia plant. Black turmeric offers benefits similar to the orange variety, but the darker cultivar contains higher concentrations of curcumin than any other Curcuma species.

Black Turmeric is a powerful antioxidant and anti-inflammatory. It has anti-bacterial and anti-fungal properties,
